From this it will be seen the Housewives' League means business. If the prediction of the officers of the League and the sincere spirit which has prevailed since the founding of the League can carry the purpose through, then it will not be long before public markets are seen all over the city, and Mrs. Knickerbecker will go to market daily like her grandmother in the old days. talked to-day of the phamplet which is being prepared for the thousands of women who will pass along the stalls with their burdens of fresh meats "Lately quite a few women of high social position," said Mr. Knoll, "have been coming here buying their house-hold supplies. The reason for the day's lateness was At the thecting of the Housewives' League last week in the Waldorf-Asto-ria the President, Mrs. Julia Heath, caused the following notice to be sent

About a year ago Attorney Cohen re-celved from the city a fee of $35,000, a previous payment of $15,000 having been made for similar services. Another $35,-000 fee is approved by Comptroller Pren-dergast and to be approved by the Board of Estimate.

Board of Estimate.

It is pointed out by the Finance Dopartment that Mr. Cohen secured payment from one company of $250,000 in excess of the amount originally agreed upon by the Corporation Counsel.

Former Justice Cohen said to-day that he had succeeded in collecting noarly $4,000,000, of which the city receives a portion and the State the remainder. His fees figure about 3 per cent.

Scotch potatoes.

The reason for the day's lateness was explained because of the burning of American coal. On her last visit the Caledonia coaled here, not wishing to take chances with the strike situation in Britain. The captain said American coal is not nearly as good as that on the other side.

$2.00 value.

I supplement this advice. I emphasize the word "advertise." Leave the hammer throwing to the athletes. To-day it is a deplorable condition that the ready-made houses are doing the business of our city, simply through the custom tailors' lack of advertising knowledge.

On this page I show the shape of two average men, measuring 38 breast. If the average ready-made coat, which looks so beautiful in the picture, was put on either of these men, it would take a vivid imagination to see the effect displayed in their pictures. The average 38 coat, put on Figure No. 1, would be two inches too low in the neck, so that when he straightened up you could almost see the waistband of his trousers. If Figure No. 2 put on 38 size regular, it would knock his hat off when he sat down, on account of the depth of the arm's-eye. Less than 25% of the American men are built in

If we tailors who have some knowledge of the different shapes were to get together, I could see where a series of advertisements would be beneficial to the tailoring trades as a whole.

My spring line is now complete. I offer hundreds of styles-Blue Serges, Gray Vicunas, Gray Sharkskin Weaves, and 1000 styles of Brownsto your order.
